SECRETS

- You went to school with one of the other llamas. You hope they don't recognise you.
- You have a seedy criminal past which has yet to come to light.
- You have an embarrassingly niche hobby or interest that doesn't fit with your public persona.
- The aspect of your appearance which you're most vain about is actually fake.
- You are a super fan of one of the judges. There may be a shrine involved, or a cult, sorry: a "club".
- If you win the competition, you plan to use the prize to do something morally questionable.
- You have rich and/or famous connections who have given you unfair advantages in life.
- You were once famous for five minutes for something which you wish everyone would forget.
- You have an unusual phobia which could give your competitors an advantage.
- You've been cheating all the way through this competition in an ingenious way.
